

For Immediate Release:

Kehrer Bielan Announces Career Connections Microsite

Helps Match Qualified Employees to Available Job Opportunities

CHAPEL HILL, NC MAY 12, 2015: Career Connections, a microsite, is now available on the Kehrer Bielan website. Candidates upload their resume and cover letter, and browse open positions. Firms post open job positions and browse the candidate listings. Access is available through a simple sign-on and all services offered are free of charge.

In announcing Career Connections, Peter Bielan, a principal of Kehrer Bielan Research & Consulting, remarked, “what makes this industry so special are the people. Connecting people with an appropriate opportunity is one of the more critical crossroads for hiring managers and job candidates.”

“Firms looking for qualified candidates to fill senior roles frequently contact us, and many times we are one of the first calls made by industry veterans when they are downsized or looking for a new opportunity,” noted Dr. Kenneth Kehrer, another principal of the firm. “We’re honored to have built that level of trust within the industry.”

“As a service to the industry,” Bielan added, “we are offering Career Connections free of charge, since frequently many good candidates are passed upon if there is a finder’s fee. We felt the only thing to do was eliminate the fee and get candidates placed. So we developed Career Connections as an interactive way to perform this valuable service.”

“Looking for a new career opportunity is one of the most stressful times for anyone, so if we can help individuals find the right role and help firms fill critical positions, we have fulfilled our core mission of making a meaningful contribution to our clients and industry,” commented Bielan.
